A PLACE TO CALL

Home

White Fields is a home for some of the most neglected and abused boys in Oklahoma. It is our hope to change an entire life, one child at a time, by giving them a place of permanency where they can heal and lead a more healthy and normal life. We strive to meet the physical, emotional and spiritual needs by giving them a long-term home, therapy and guidance.

Our relationship with each child is one we hope will endure a lifetime and will affect generations of victims of abuse. It is not enough to make a temporary impact on a life that has been so severely traumatized. In order to make a person whole again, we believe a long-term commitment is critical in helping that child overcome his past and face a brighter future.

All proceeds will be used to fund the very things that help the White Field's boy heal, such as food, clothing, therapy, education and so much more. Thank you for helping to make White Fields a place our boys can call home!
